

It's a good idea to go to the State VoteWA to see if your ballot has been sent, and to verify that your address is shown correctly. You can check, too, when the ballot has been sent by you (preferably at the courthouse, or at a dropbox). To start the process, go to: <https://voter.votewa.gov/>

← and sign in with your name and birthdate. The sign in screen looks like this:

When you have signed in, the screen will show say “Welcome” with your name beneath. Registration Status should show as “Active” Check the information given there – be sure your address (which shows right beneath the Active status is correct.

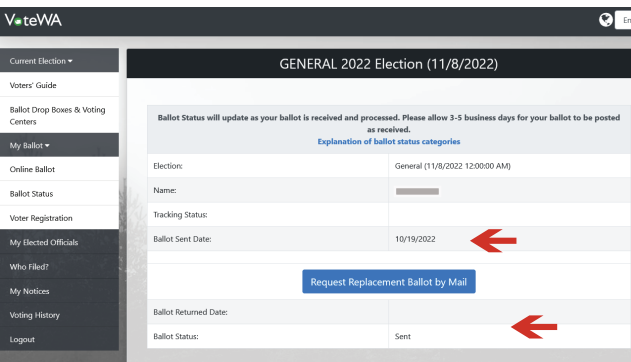

There are two buttons there a blue one and a red one. DO NOT CLICK ON EITHER OF THOSE IF YOUR INFORMATION IS ACCURATE.

On the left side of the screen, you will see a list – one of which says “MY BALLOT”.

There may be a down arrow, or the window may be open (see the two screenshots below).

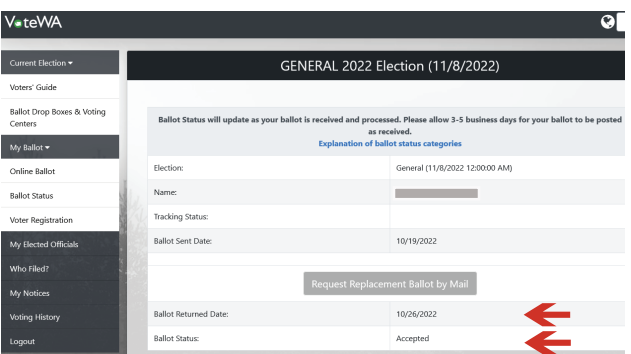

If it's not showing “Ballot Status”, then click on the down arrow (on the “My Ballot” tab), and it will drop down so you can see “Ballot Status”.

Once you have the BALLOT STATUS window open, you'll be able to see when your ballot was sent.

(The date there will probably be October 19th, 2022.)

If you haven't sent in your ballot yet, the Ballot Returned Date and the Ballot Status will be blank.

Once you have returned your ballot (give it a few days for processing), go back into the Vote WA, and check to be sure your ballot has been received and accepted.

(If it only shows as “Received”, then give it some more time and check again, until you see that your ballot has been “Accepted”.)
